CENTRE BACK UP AND RUNNING

AFTER completing a multi-million dollar renovation, Westleigh Village was officially reopened on the weekend and the first thing it did was give right back to the community.

The changes included renovations as well as the construction of Aldi's 400th store, which opened its doors in March.

There were specials throughout the centre on Sunday, prizes given away and donations distributed.

Sponsorships were awarded to Thornleigh Thunder FC, Larool Preschool and Thornleigh West Public School.

Westleigh Village also installed a new children's "ride on" fire truck with all profits going directly to the Westleigh Rural Fire Brigade.

A spokeswoman for the centre said the day was about giving back to the community.

"Westleigh Village is committed to the community," she said.

"The Village is looking forward to being the local hub of the community."

Westleigh Village was officially opened by Hornsby state Liberal MP Matt Kean.
