BEROWRA

Pitching in to clear up the trash

Youngsters keep country clean

Jake McCallum

BEROWRA Christian School cleaned up Australia in support of a true blue cause.

As Clean Up Australia Day rolled around once again, the students of Berowra Christian School rolled up their sleeves to take out the trash alongside Hornsby state Liberal MP Matt Kean.

More than 60 students from the school were out in force to help Clean Up Australia – leading Mr Kean to a local reserve that needed a clean.

“It’s fantastic to see the students from Berowra Christian School learning about the importance of maintaining a healthy and clean environment from such an early age,” Mr Kean said. “The students are very enthusiastic to help and learn, which will hopefully put them in good habits for the rest of their lives.”

Australians are the second highest producers of waste, per person, in the world with each of us sending over 690kg of waste to landfill each.

In the 26 year history of the national event, Australians have devoted more than 31 million hours towards the environment through Clean Up Australia Day and collected more than 200,000 tonnes of rubbish.

The NSW Government has committed $20 million to anti-littering programs over a four-year period as part of the NSW Government’s Waste Less, Recycle More initiative.
